

1
2
3
4 WILDEARTH GUARDIANS, ET AL.,
5 Plaintiffs,
6 v.
7
8 GINA McCARTHY, in her official capacity as 9 Administrator of the Environmental
10 Protection Agency,
11
12 Defendant.

Case No. 11-cv-05651-YGR
(and related action 11-cv-5694-YGR)

ORDER DENYING MOTION TO MODIFY JUDGMENT

Re: Dkt. No. 90

13 Plaintiffs WildEarth Guardians, et al., have filed a motion (Dkt. No. 90, Motion to Modify
14 Judgment) seeking to modify this Court's orders granting summary judgment in their favor (Dkt.
15 No. 64 and 69) under Rule 60(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Defendant Gina
16 McCarthy, in her official capacity as Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency
17 ("EPA") opposes the motion. The motion came on regularly for hearing on October 14, 2014.

18 Having carefully considered the papers submitted and the pleadings in this action, and for 19 the reasons set forth below, the Court hereby DENIES the Motion.

20 I. BACKGROUND

21 Plaintiffs seek to modify this Court's prior final orders to, in essence, reiterate the 22 requirements stated therein. By way of background, EPA promulgated a National Ambient Air
23 Quality Standard ("NAAQS") for ozone on March 12, 2008. 73 Fed. Reg. 16436 (Mar. 27, 2008).
24 Under certain provisions of the Clean Air Act, all states were required to submit the listed
25 elements of State Implementation Plans ("SIPs") pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 7410(a)(2), or 26 Infrastructure SIPs, for the 2008 ozone NAAQS by March 12, 2011. 42 U.S.C. § 7410(a)(1). For 27 states that failed to meet that deadline, EPA was required to issue a notice of failure to submit by 28 the September 12, 2011. As this Court previously found, and EPA failed to meet that deadline, in

1 violation of its mandatory duty. The Court also found that, for certain states which submitted an
2 Infrastructure SIP after the deadline, EPA had failed to take final action by approving in full,
3 disapproving in full, or approving in part and disapproving in part, within the time required by 4 statute. 42 U.S.C. § 7410(k)(2) and (3).

5 This Court's prior orders required EPA to issue findings that certain states had failed to 6 submit Infrastructure SIPs for the 2008 ozone National Ambient Air Quality Standard by no later
7 than January 4, 2013. (Dkt. No. 64 and 69.)

8 On January 4, 2013, pursuant to this Court's order, EPA issued a finding that numerous
9 states had failed to submit 2008 ozone Infrastructure SIPs except as to the Good Neighbor
10 provisions found in 42 U.S.C. § 7410(a)(2)(D)(i)(I). 78 Fed. Reg. 2,882 (Jan. 15, 2013). The 11 EPA declined to make findings of failure to submit on the Good Neighbor provisions in reliance
12 on its interpretation of the D.C. Circuit's decision in EME Homer City Generation v. EPA, 696
13 F.3d 7, 31 (D.C. Cir. 2012), concluding that "a SIP cannot be deemed to lack a required
14 submission or deemed deficient for failure to meet the 110(a)(2)(D)(i)(I) obligation until after the 15 EPA quantifies that obligation." 78 Fed. Reg. at 2,884.

16 Sierra Club, Environmental Defense Fund, along with the states of Maryland, Connecticut, 17 Delaware and the District of Columbia appealed these administrative findings by a petition to the 18 D.C. Circuit. See Maryland v. EPA, 13-1070 (consolidated with No. 13-1072). While that appeal
19 was pending, the Supreme Court reversed Homer City decision on which EPA had relied. See
20 EPA v. EME Homer City Generation, L.P., 574 U.S. ___, 134 S.Ct. 1584 (2014). The Supreme
21 Court held the plain language of the Clean Air Act mandated that states submit Good Neighbor
22 provisions within three years of EPA promulgating a NAAQS, and that EPA need not undertake
23 any action to trigger this obligation. Homer City, 134 S.Ct. at 1600. In light of the Homer City
24 opinion, on August 1, 2014, the D.C. Circuit vacated EPA's January 4, 2013 decision that it need
25 not address the Good Neighbor provisions and remanded the matter to EPA for further
26 consideration. See Maryland v. EPA, 13-1070 (D.C. Cir. Aug 1, 2014) Order
27 [Document#1505606] at 1. According to plaintiffs, EPA has thus far failed to take any action
28 subsequent to that remand.

1       II. ANALYSIS

2       Plaintiffs argue that EPA was ordered to comply with a mandatory duty under the Clean
3 Air Act, but its action in compliance was later vacated by a court so that EPA once again has an 4 unfulfilled mandatory duty. In other words, Plaintiffs contend, the D.C. Circuit's vacatur of 5 EPA's January 4, 2013 action with respect to the 2008 ozone NAAQS Good Neighbor provisions
6 means that the status quo prior to that action is restored, and Plaintiffs' claim that EPA has failed
7 to undertake a mandatory duty is revived. Notably, Plaintiffs' motion specifies that they are not
8 asking the Court to hold the EPA Administrator in contempt for violating the Court's orders or 9 seeking enforcement of the orders, but rather that they are seeking to modify those orders in light
10 of the change in circumstances, i.e., the vacatur. Plaintiffs contend that Rule 60(b) permits
11 amendment of the Court's prior orders in this manner.

12       Rule 60(b) provides:

13       On motion and just terms, the court may relieve a party or its legal 14 representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for the 15 following reasons:

- 16              (1) mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect;
- 17              (2) newly discovered evidence that, with reasonable
18 diligence, could not have been discovered in time to move for a new 19 trial under Rule 59(b);
- 20              (3) fraud (whether previously called intrinsic or extrinsic),
21 misrepresentation, or misconduct by an opposing party;
- 22              (4) the judgment is void;
- 23              (5) the judgment has been satisfied, released or discharged; it 24 is based on an earlier judgment that has been reversed or vacated; or 25 applying it prospectively is no longer equitable; or
- 26              (6) any other reason that justifies relief.

27       Fed. R. Civ. P. 60. Motions under Rule 60(b) "are addressed to the sound discretion of the district
28 court." Barber v. State of Hawai'i, 42 F.3d 1185, 1198 (9th Cir. 1994).

29       The Court finds no basis in Rule 60(b) to modify a judgment or final order based upon the 30 subsequent events described here. While it may be the case that a vacatur of the EPA's prior
31 action restores the status quo as it existed before the action took effect, and that EPA must take a 32 new action to fulfill its duties, it does not follow that this Court should amend its 2012 order.
33 And, while plaintiffs have established previously that EPA's delay in fulfilling its obligations
34 injures them and the public since it defers required action to protect air quality, plaintiffs have not 35 established that reopening the instant proceedings, which concluded nearly two years ago, is the

United States District Court
Northern District of California

1 correct legal mechanism for obtaining EPA's compliance. EPA asserts that it complied with the 2 law as it understood it at the time. Plaintiffs offered no objection at that time. A subsequent
3 decision of the United States Supreme Court, nearly a year and a half later, changed the state of 4 the law with respect to the Good Neighbor provisions of the Infrastructure SIP requirements. It is
5 clear enough that EPA should now take action and make findings as to which states are not in 6 compliance with the Good Neighbor provisions. However, the Court declines to exercise its
7 discretion, and set a precedent, in a manner that would stretch Rule 60(b) to fit a situation the rule
8 plainly does not contemplate: reopening litigation post-judgment due to a change in the law.

9 As the parties acknowledge, plaintiffs can bring a new action to enforce EPA's mandatory
10 duty concerning the Good Neighbor provision relative to the 2008 ozone NAAQS (and, indeed, 11 may have done so already). While the Court acknowledges that additional litigation to force
12 EPA's compliance with its undisputed mandatory duties as set forth in this Court's prior order
13 would needlessly use judicial, agency, and party resources, that ill cannot be cured by simply 14 amending the Court's orders here.

15 III. CONCLUSION

16 Accordingly, the Motion to Modify Judgment is DENIED.

17 This terminates Docket No. 90.

18 IT IS SO ORDERED.

19 Dated: November 10, 2014

20
YVONNE GONZALEZ ROGERS
UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28